Bediam broke loose at this stage, and O'Neill finally concluded if he wanted to save himself from hoddly injury the best thing he could do would be to return from the field, which he did. The game then proceeded with Umpire Mertes acting as sole judge.

The game was the must unsatisfactory content from a spectator's point of view that was ever witnessed in this city. The last three innings were played in total darkness, and it was impossible for the players of both teams to do themselves justice.

the players of both teams to do numerous justice.
Outside of the wrangling of both teams the game was almost featureless. At this writing it is almost impossible to eav whether or not the Firston Rerubsicians will play their game subeduled for tomorrow with Santa Cruz. The entire Fresso Europauan team, from Manager Shaa down, are distanted and think there is an apparent job to keep the Fresno team from winning games.

Farmers Club held an important ses-sion yesterday atternoon, lasting over two hours. Several interesting matters considered. Chairman W. H. were considered. Chairman w. H., Hodgkin presided, and the committee-men present were B. E. Hutchinson, John S. Dare, Alax, Gordon, George L., Warlow and Dr. Eshleran, Miss L. H., Hatch and J. H. Harding, members of the club, were also in attendance.

The first business taken up was the consideration of the resolutions passed by the Hundred Thousand Olub lest Thursday evening criticising the Farmers' organization, or, to be more exact, certain members of it, for permitting political modives to influence them in the handling of matters before the club, and for their opposition to the proposed New York axhibit. President Hodgkin was rather warm over the matter and presented resolutions, which were adopted, in reply to the Hundred Thousand Olub.

The other committeemen were disposed to regard the matter calmly, and even good-naturedly, and John Dore appeared to be in a particularly happy mood. Mr. Hodgkin was ted the chair in favor of Mr. Dore, and then offered the following resolutions:

"At the same time the Freenc Country Farmers' Club proposes to continue its opposition to the waste of the targayers' money (as was suggested in the contemplated New York exhibit, etc.) whether such weste moets with the indorsement of the Hundred Thousand Olub or not.

"On such subjects the Freenc Country Farmers' Olub distinct the same right it concedes to others of forming its own opinion and giving expression to the same without let or informance."

Mr. Hodgkin followed with some vigorous remarks, in which he estated that he considered the action of the Hundred Thousand Olub with "the contempt it deserved." He felt it incumbent upon himself, as president of the Farmers' Club, to defend the honor of the organization.

B. E. Hutchinson suggested that the offeeding resolutions should be ignored

DORE TAKES A THEN.

Then Mr. Dore madesome spirited remarks. He said that it was his opinion that the resolutions as published in the papers did not represent the Hundred Thousand Club. No representatives of that body would peak such resolutions, he thought. The action taken was only by a few individuals. At first he had decided to pay no attention to the resolutions of the manufacture of the committee had come out from ambush, he considered it beat to make some reply. He favored the adoption of Mr. Hodgkin's resolutions. "I coniess," said Mr. Dore, "that I could not decide how best to answer these resolutions purporting to come from the Hundred Thousand Club, but Mr. Hodgkin has thoroughly considered the matter and has framed a reply that is satisfactory to me. THE FEULT GROWERS' CONVENTION,

Dr. Estlemen then brought up the matter of the State Fruit Growers' Convention, which is to be held at Sacramento on November 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th. The doctor will not do the transportation committee, and he selved for any suggestions that the club might desire to make for the consideration of that committee. This brought type discussion during which Mesers. Hutchinson and Dore stated that at the state conventions heretofore held no attention had been pant to matters effecting the dried frait and raisin intersets. On the other land, the hig reen froit growers and shippers, particularly those of the northern part of the state, had captured the conventions and had all offorts directed to intriburing their intersets. Mr. Dore and Mr. Hutchinson stated that they had attended a number of these gatherings and their efforts to have steps taken for the baselist of dried froit and raisin produces had proved further. The matter of baving the county horticultural commissioners attend the convention was discussed at length. It was flushly decided to request that they go to Sacramento, and that the matter of paying their expenses be left to the judgment of the Board of Supervisors. Some thought that the commissioners ought to be willing to pay the cost of the trip out of their own pockets.

It was then proposed to invite the state growers to not the next convention in Fraeno, ou that Central California might receive more attention from the convention. Mr. Hutchinson explained that Sauramento had been abusen as the meeting-place for next mouth in order to be marrer Governor Build and induced him to be batter disposed toward the work of the convention than he has been. Radding had been selected for next spring, and Freeno's chance would be to get the meeting ext fall.

Mr. Warlow then offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted, it being the opinion that it was not too early to begin agitating Freeno's claims for the convention:

"Resolved, That it is the unanimous sentiment and desire of the Farmera' Club of Freeno county that our representatives and members who attend the California State Fruit Growers Convocation, to be held at Encramento on November 15th to 19th, inclusive, use all houseable means to have the next state convention of said fruitgrowers held in the city of Freeno, Freeno county, California."

There will be two meetings of the club before the convention and there will be plenty of time in which to arrange for reduced fares, etc. The meeting of the club next Saturday will be none of the entire numbership, and Mrs. John S. ## Trouble About S and F.

Two instances of various readings possibly from confusing sand f, may be possibly from confusing s and I, may be worth giving.

In the Rev. A. B. Grosari's edition of Gifes Fideher's spoem, "Christ's Victory and Triumph," the reading in part 3, stanza 44, is, "And as latength * * to fly from his own heart." The editor remarks on this, "I read fought, but I am not sure that sought is not intended." In Griffin & Furran's "Ancient and Medera Dibrary" (the reading is sought.

In the Westeyan Methodist Hynn Book (Hynn No. 126, versa 2) the progent reading stands:

In nature's strength I cought in voin

In nature's strength I cought in unin For what my God refused to give. I could not then the mastery gain Or lord of all my passion live.

This reading appears to have been adopted by John Wesley in 1780, but what Charles Wesley wrote was quit different: In nature's strength I fought in vain

For what my God rafused to give.
I could not then, etc.

One dark night an old and supermunated watchdog who had been turned out to die was sleeping in an empty hogshead in the alley lack of the hig store belonging to his muster when he was awakened by a suspicious sound. Peering cautiously out of his retreat, he saw a man in a black mask creep stealthily up to the building and begin pilling a lot of inflammable material against it.

"Ah," said the old watchdog, "here is a fine chance to return good for evil and heap coals of fire on the head of my cruel master. Only this morning he kicked me from the promises which I have guarded so long, saying, "Begone, you worthless cur!" and, braised, humbled and well migh broken hearted, I crept in here to rest und reflect, little thinking that I would so soon have an opportunity to demonstrate my worth and earn the bifelong gratitude of my master by saving his property from the torch of an incendiary."

Powdered Crab ps a Medicine.

Foundered Grab as a Festicine.

A Russian journal that hos recently come under our notice culls attention to the fact that for some 20 years just the inhabitants of a malarial locality in the government of Kharkov have used powdered crabs with great success in the case of fevers. The powder is prepared in the following way: Live crabs are poured over with the ordinary whisky until they get asleep. They are then put on a bread pau in a hot oven, thoroughly dried and pulverized and the powder passed through a flue sieve. One dose, a tengnoufful, is generally afficient to care the intermittent fever. In very obstituate cases a second dose is required. Each dose is invariably preceded by a glass of alon brandy as a pargative. The powder is used in that locality in preference to quinine. So says the journal. We will not vouch for it.—Now York Ledger.

The Papular Jacket For Next Winter.

"The tendency of the winter jacket is toward the biouse effect, which is obtained by darts," writes Isable A. Mallon in The Ladies' Home Journal.

"Yokes, collars, coffs, pipings in fur, whether it be mink, Poesian hanb, ermine, sable, silver and black fox or monkey, will be popular. Velvet and silk braid of all widths are much used. Sain cloth is really the noveley of the day and obtains in heliotrope, green, mode, golden brown, silver gray, royn, blee, doys and lineoln green. In this are seen not only the fur decorations mentioned, but also a very thick, course, black weeden braid and tiny straps of leather matching or contrasting with the cloth in color. Collars continue high, are goved and undulating und may be lined with tur, velvet or lace. Wutteau effects are seen. Capes will continue to be vern. The novelty in their trimming is a flomuce of the same material about the edges, described by the French motists as 'cut in round.'?" The Papular Jacket For Next Winter

ABOUT THE BOYS.

ABOUT THE BOYS.

Bring Them up in the Way They Should go.

It is jost as easy to start a boy out right as it is to do any other plain and simple duty. Besides it will save a great mount of trouble in the future.

There is not enough care taken with the boys in the matter of their persons appearance. Have the young men take a pride in their looks. It is cheaper to do so then to allow them to grow up with carolices inhits. Dress them neatly and treach them to lake care of their clothing and they will be less of an expense to you then if shabily attired. I costs very little to get a fine dreep suit for a boy at the diching department of the White Front Stores and your little men attired in one of them looks and feels like somebody. For the belter understanding of this (to perents) important matter, the reader is referred to the large display advertisement of the White Front Stores on the fifth page of today's Remunalcan. There he will see eivertied some of the best makes of how elothing at most astonishingly low prices. The goods should also he saca and a call at the stores will pay you.

BEADERS of the REPUBLICAN Will note with pleasure the appearance in this 18808 of a letter from A. J. Waterhouse. which is the first of a series of weekly contributions to the Republican from A. J. Like most of the fortunes of rich men that of George M. Pullman shrinks far below the popular estimate when its actual size is disclosed. It seems that the Pullman estate is valued at less than $8,000,000, which is many times less than the estimate generally placed upon it. There is no fault to be found on this We have enough millionaires and their millions are suffic

WHERE REFORM IS NEEDED.

It is to be hoped that the Republicane It is to be hoped that the Republicans will next year pledge their candidate for governor and their candidates for the legislature to a radical reduction in state expenditures. This will mean the abolition of useless and expensive commissions and offices, the discharge of a large number of men who have been put on the state's salary list merely in recognition of their political services and a thorough reform in the conduct of the state institutions. The Democratic party three years ago pledged itself to do these things, but it falled to choose the right kind of men, from the governor down, to carry out its program, If the Republican party would have better success it must select men for the offices named who can be depended upon to earry out its wishes.

The Republican has already pointed out how Governor Budd has failed to fulfill the fair promises he made with regard to lopping off useless offices while he was stumping the state. We have shown that one of the most extravagant bureaus, the State Mining Bureau, which costs the paople about $27,500 a year, was not adpletted to the runing process by him. His abatention appear to us to be explained in the pruning process oy him. His abstention appear to us to be explained in the remay he made before the miners' at he made before the miners' at he made before the miners' at the the miners' When the governor ascended the platform he was received with applause. form he was required with appraisa-life said that during his administration he had, as a rule, addressed only such assemblages as it was necessary for him to appear before on account of his official position, but he made an excep-tion of the miners' convention. The governor continued:

There are two reasons for my doing
so. One is that the delegates come largely from my old congressional dietriet, and the other is that is my isst campaign the northern part of the state, controlled most of you come, was use campaign the morthern partof the state, from which mot of you come, gave un hearty support. The miners' convention was the first body to recognize my election in a forcible manner. When there was a dispute as to whether I had been elected or not I was mitorduced by Uncle Jake Nell to the miners' convention as the next governor of California. In that convention were well known men of all political parties, and their secaptance of my election din more than anything else to astile the grave question concerning it that had been raised. I feel gradeful to the miners, and always, when governor, and after I am governor, I will say: Miners, how can I serve you?"

governor, I will say: hinere, haw can be revery on?"

I was compelled to veto appropriations in other directions for over $2,000,000, so as to keep my pledge to the neople to confine taxes within a certain limit, and at the same time keep my pledge to the miners to stand by them from the beginning to the end.

This certainly means that in return for the amport of the miners he had been liberal with them in the matter of appropriations, and would continue to "serve" them in that manner if he could. Now, we have no fault to find with Governor Budd's gratitude, but it does not impress us as being fair to the tempapers to reward the miners at their expense. The Republicans cannot afford to nominate a candidate for government. ernor who believes in making the people pay his debt of gratitude.

But we wish to say a little something about the reforms that we believe should be made by the next state administration which, we firmly believe, will be Republican. One of the very first effices that should be done away with is that of Commissioner of Public Works. It is a mystery to pearly every inds to do to while away the time. Ed Leake, editor of the Woodland Democrat, is the incumbent and his besiti The Great Newspaper of the San Joaquin Valley.

Largoost Circulation:

the cost of the office up to $9820 a year.
The Dairy Bureau costs the state only $1200 a year, which is clearly thrown away; for even if there be a necessity for such a bureau nothing at all can be accomplished with that pairry sum. The office of attorney to the State Board of Health was one that everybody ex-pected the Governor would abolish, but he disappointed everybody. The salary

The commission for the revision and reform of the laws, which costs the state $16,000 a year might well be dispensed with unless efficient men are appointed to serve on it. Our laws need revision and reforming badly, but the first com-mission appointed by the Governor has not been a success,

The State Board of Harbor Commis-

ioners at San Francisco is nothing but huge political machine. The president of the board has admitted this and suggested reforms, but his suggestions have struck no responsive chord in the breasts of his colleagues or of the Gov arnor. Many more men are employed by the heard then are needed. Then there are the public institutions.

Oalifornia has five insans asyloms – at Stockton, Naps, Agnews, San Ber-nardino and Ukiah-which cost the state $321,875 annually in salaries alone. The cost of maintenance of each numste is considerably higher in the emaller asylume-Ukiah and San Bernardinobeing $224 a year at the northern and $235 at the southern asplum as com-pared with $133 at Stockton, $147.36 at Napa and $141.62 at Agnews. At least two of these asylums should be abandoned, say Ukiah and Agnews, leaving those at Stockton, Napa and San Re

It might be better, too, if the reform chools were reformed out of existence One would be enough, if only those childred were admitted who are entitled to admission. The consolidation of San Quentin and Folsom prisons does not seem to us a good idea. A better one would be to abandon the prison at San Quentin and build one in the southern part of the state. This would save quite a sum in mileage. But it is impossible to enumerate all the reforms that should be inaugurated in our state institutions in one article. We have stated facts sufficient to show that Governor Budd will leave a good deal of work for his successor.

THE Fermers' Club joins the REPUBLI-CAN in words of protest against the deplerable felly of consigning relains to eastern jobbers, but what will it avail if there are traitors in camp who preach cash in the sweatbox while secretly consigning their crops? In all the history of the raisin industry in California ther has never been such an exhibition of treachery and monumental folly as that made by the people who have pledged themselves with others to hold for a minimum price and have secretly sent their raisins to eastern jobbars on con-signment, where they are used not only to break prices but as a weapon with which to attack the system of cash buying. The REPUBLICAN cannot believe that there are any considerable number of raisin growers in Freeno county pos-sessed of so little loyalty and business sense as would be shown by walking into the consignment trap again. Now that the administration has re duced the price of armor plate to $200 per ton and declared its intention to manufacture for itself if necessary, Andrew Carnegie riess to remark that there has been no profit in the business anyway, of making blowholes at $500 per ton. And that is all right, too. The government can well afford to give Mr. Carnegie's works a rest. Whatever the cost of armor plate may be, we have had enough of the plugged and venti-

Nothing short of the bighest perfection in the goods hendled in their grocery department will eatisfy the Kutner-Goldstein Co. The firm prides itrell, and justly, on having the best trade in groceries in the interior of the state. It is a trade built up by solid merit of the most unmistakable character. Only goods that are known to be pure and wholesome and that have established reputations are handled. In fact, in no grocery business in the country is greater care exercised in selecting and purchasing goods. The customer of the Kutner-Goldstein Co. is some to get the best. An interesting and hotly contested

An interesting and hotly contested baseball game was played at Selras yesterday between the nines of the Freene and Selma high schools. The game resulted in a victory for the Freene, the score being 7 to 3.

What the Selma boys lack in ball-playing they amply make up in hespitality, for the Freene tam was royally treated by them while there.

The heavy pitching of Harris was too much fur the Selmas. Sixteen (amouts were scored in his favor. But the fielding of the Selma team was excellent. A long left-field eatch by McKennie brought forth explaines from the speciators. Jack Rawlins made a star coacher, his suites usrning for him the same "Roxing Bill." TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

To Gain Flesh, to Bleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepain Tablets—lu-teresting Experience of an Indian-apolis Gentleman. apolise Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nervas are to bisme and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and apring remedies; the real seasof the mischief is lost eight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked siter.

Nervous dyspeptice often do not bave any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the unual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspeptia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly severy other organ; in some cases the heart paiplitates and is irrequire; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with a cumulation of gas, cour risings and heartburn.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL. Ladies of the Christian Church

Give a Novel Entertainment.
Last evening the Ladies of the Chris ian church gave a novel entertainment at DeWitt hall. It was Hallowe'en and the decorations and program were appropriate for the occasion. On the street on each side of the entrance to the hall two great, grinning jack o'lanterns stroot goard. Upon entering the darkened ball the visitor was startled by an array of jack o'lanterns. Up in unidnir, apparently, live smiltag, bright-faced jack o'lanterns expensively, live smiltag, bright-faced pack o'lanterns expensively, live smiltag, bright-faced number of fire-faced, lerving jacks came in for due attention. Below the five a well constructed, dignified jack o'lantern appeared, with arms and body made of paper. This seemed to be the "bead joce," for he had a moveable mouth and an expression of superiority. A large number of people were in attendance at the social and thoroughly onjoyed the program, which was as follows:

attempted fusion by parties which do not agree in political demands cannot command the support of the members of such parties. We therefore conclude there can only be an honorable and effective union of those who believe in the same principles, and that henceforth no other kind of union should be considered by members of the People's Party. Holding these principles, we urge all who look to the deliverance of the nation from monopoly to actively organize in our party and propers for the coming contest."

This is plain anough, to be sure. It means that if the Democrats want to fuse next year they must come bag and baggogs into the Populiat camp. But they won't do it—that is, they won't if the attitude of the Democrats in this county reflects or is indicative of the lesions who favor it, but I believe that the great unjority of Democrats in this county are opposed to a union with the Populists. So far as state politics goes, levion has been a diseadvantage to the Democrats in the some who favor it, but I believe that the great unjority of Democrats in the county are opposed to a union with the Populists. So far as state politics goes, levion has been a diseadvantage to the Democrats in the county potters in congress and if we had gone it alone I leel condident we should have had nore. There was no necessity for insion in the Second district, as De Vries was ever winner, and the same may be used of Maguire in the Pourth. Thousands of Chinamen Are Annually Smuggled Over the

The Mormo missionaries, concerning whom an interesting article appeared in yesterday's Republican, called upon an old Methodist lady in this city to other afternoon. It was rather late and she had just put the settle on the fire and was getting ready to prepare for supper when they came, They introduced themselves as "Latter Day Saints." She listened to them for a while and then esked wist "Latter Day Saints." She listened to them for a while and then esked wist "Latter Day Saints" were, for, though a devon roll glow, she had kept but little track of religious nomenclature. The Question of Skipping.

The Question of Shipping.

A good work of fiction, whether in proson or in verse—we are here spending only of good works—is a work of art and can be rightly enjoyed only by entering into sympathy with the artist's mind and accepting his work according to his intention. In a perfect poon the place of every word, in a perfect novel the place, if not of every word, of every episode and of every paragraph, is important, and the reader who skips throws away the pleasure he has meant to derive from the lummony of composition, in which very possibly the beauty of the whole may chiefly consist, and despises the best part of the artist's labor. He might as well go to see a good play and then willfully miss every alternate seems.—Self Culture.

In 1803-3 the Federal government appropriated unsoid public lands for the use of agricultural foderal government appropriated missing public banks for the use of agricultural colleges in the proportion of 80,000 acres for each congressment. Much of the scrip was soon frittered away by most of the slates at less than 60 cents an acre. The territory apportioned to New York state amounted to 90,000 acres, and the legislature of that saide jumped at the proposition when Mr. Cornell offered to lary the lands then revailable at the highest market price, 66 cents an acre. The balk of this estate was in the pine forcests of Wisconsin and has been so judiciously managed that the property is now said to yield something like $1,000 a day. CASHOMERI HOUSE GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

CASHMERE HOUSE GOWN.

The satin-finish cashineres are extremely finshionable this season, and are made up in most graneful costumes. Velvet Ribbon is often used for trimming, and is most offective against the light grays, reseda greens and now shades of bine.

A gown that meets with general inver and is peculiarly suitable for home wear is the model shown in our fashion cut, which has the waits made with a small, periestifting yoke of black velvet and a high collar also of velvet. Directions for entiting the skirt, which and slewes are given in the dissue-paper patterns sold by Hacger's fluxar, where this custume appears. The blouse front, which hangs over the helt, is trimmed with crossed bands of black velvet ribbon, while the slewes, which are tight-fitting, have ruffles at the top and a flaring point at the wrist. On the skirt is the same arrangement of black velvet ribbon, brinning a regular dissign. The skirt is cut to train slightly, and is larger on the hips and in front than a walking skirt is now made. This gown can be made in other materials, such as silk, noplin or bengaline, but looks best in cashmere, and if an inexpensive quality of silk is used, the costume will come within the means of most women and still be a gown in the very latest mode.

OSHO DESTRUCTION OF THE STATE O

ite members are whispered about the city—stories that I camos ir speak—but I will tell you one, for I am prepared to prove ite truttitainees: On a train coming up from the south the other day was a member of this city's school board—he and his whisky, bottle. As the latter becamesempty, the former became full; full, loquedoes and filthily vainglorioue. He boasted of his corruption, and he laid San Francisco's shame, as the participated in it, like a map before his hearers. Within, he teld how he had seen two women teachers to be a former of the street. But he had not reported them, he said, because they had their 'juil.' This fellow—a member of the school board, by your leave—in respunsible for the school training of our children. And he intrusts their care to women who get druink and he besotted on the streets! Into the band of such a creature San Francisco delivers her little ones! Corrupt! What do you think of it? I could give this onepeakable rescal*e

Out there in the country you have room, and I had room. Thereis breadth and largeness there; here, in the city, there is narrowness and smallness; we are boxed in. Out there, if it was warm complimes, I could look over the plain to the mountains, and say, "It is cool there, and some day Freene will 'get next to hersell,' build an electric 'gst next to nersen', button to nectric line, and the mountains shall be her own." Up there, even in the town, there was a touch of country life and I found an inexpressible pleasure in going into my garden and trying to make pea-nute grow with the fruit end upward, nato my garous and trying oward, as they ought to grow. Ah, wall I take it that the prevailing characteristic the city engenders in the human breast is selfnishness. How could it be otherwise? I (or you) am simply one in a row here; my fint is exactly like the other fists in the block, and it I should go home inservined some night, I would have set to try to fit my latch-key to the key tolot of 27 or 745 as to 750, where I live. As a consequence, I probably would have to sit all night on the steps of some house in the row. This is why I do not get inebristed down there; I dare not take the chances of attempts of some house in the row. thousand things more that might be said and that need the saying. For San Francisco is the political lub of this state, and Freeno. Shockton, Sacramento and the rest are but the spuckes that revolve about it. And if the hub be rotten and eaten by the worms of political corruption, I submit to you that it makes little difference how strong is the history in the spokes; the wheel is in poor condition. The San Francisco delegations to state conventions—ah, well I let us drop the subject.

And again my mind turns to the country, which I love best. It has done so many a time in these past seven weeks, many a time in these past seven weeks, and I judge that it will continue to do co. I know what you would say; that the city has its advantages. It has, indeed, and they are manifold. But suppose that a man likes to maintain some cut of a formal acquaintanee with the Almighty, how is he going to do it where he has to keep his bead torned in saven different directions at one and the same time in order to escape being run over? from a to Exact. The streets are essentially contraverse them with apparent ease and it is only on rare occasions that a mileb cow is lest in the mud. Society has not as yet reached the "eyther" and "myther" stage, but it is going down the line in that direction rapidly. The bronce is showly but surely dividing honors with the hike, the sombero with the Fedora, and the song of the nick-shooter is rapidly going "agiliumering through the dream of things that wer" and in its wake comes the libel suit.

The country here is rolling with a heavy accent on the roll. I have traveled over it for miles in several directions and it is all very much the same. Water is a very accent article, and a ranch with a good well on it is considered a homora. In some places wells are sunk to a depth of not more than 15 or 20 feet, and injurials a fair supply of water; then, again, they may go from 100 to 150 feet and not obtain enough to supply the demands for household jurposes and the work stock. It is a common thing to see ranchers hauling water for several miles from welle belonging mon thing to see renchers hauling water for several miles from welle belonging

Civilization Has Not Yet Reached

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:-I arrived in this burg, Pitzville, county seat of Adams county, political gaugilon and religious storm center of the northwest, on Thursday last. Pitzville is not as large as San Francisco, but it has a great deal more room in which to grow. In fact I think 400 would cover her population from a to izzard. The streets are so mouth that a cow-puncher's cayue

mus tunnit to see remeases musting water for several miles from wells belonging to their more fortunate neighbors.
Stock and wheat relating are the only industries. The sold is good, and whun there is enough rain it produces well. This year the crops have been very good. Grain is selling at from 70 to 72 cents per bushel, and as a consequence the farmars are thappy. Land is cheap, compared with California prices, and there is an abundance of railroad and government land in all directions, after leaving the town, for twolve or ditton miles. After getting beyond the boundaries of the grain ranches, the country is all open and there is a good deal of stock relating on a small ceale.

The stock raisers are obliged to dig wells down in the "coulees" (the Washington term for ravines) and pump water for the herds. It is forty miles to thinke river, the nearest stream of any consequence, Orab creek, about twenty miles north, and Cow creek, about twenty made the season and the stockmen have to take to the back country and resort to the "coulee" and the pump-handle for their water souply.

The weather during the daytime is pleasant enough, but along toward night the wind commences to blow from the northeast—one of those sharp, including cases—provoking winds that goright through an overcost and send cold onlills meandering up and down your spinal column and seems to whistle "Home Sweet Home" (in California), as it plays "crack the whip" through your Vandykes.
